Health & Safety Training for Caregivers

This 4-hour facilitated training gives family caregivers, Home Health Aides, Personal Care Attendants, Direct Support Personnel and other healthcare workers in New Mexico the opportunity to explore topics and issues that are fundamental to their caregiving. The training covers the key strategies for keeping one safe and healthy in the caregiving workplace.

Learning Objectives Include:

- Chemical hazards common to kitchens
- Safety techniques for dealing with chemicals
- Medication contact hazards
- Basics of opioids and addiction
- Signs and symptoms of opioid overdose
- Opioid overdose reversal

Past participants are highly satisfied!

"I've learned through this training I must FIRST take good care of myself!"

"I am impressed that good caregiving is as much an art as science and that these skills can be learned."

"The knowledge of the presenters was really top-notch."
